

ASAP

Business COACH Services

Choose your game!

ASAP now offers business coaching services from our existing experts and Todd Brown, a veteran business leader who has been an "internal" change management consultant and operations executive for over 40 years. Combining Todd's experience with the expertise of our staff to offer a fully flexible set of tools designed to improve our customers' business results.

Just as an athlete benefits from the knowledge and prodding of a coach, our business COACH customers will learn how to:

- understand the unique conditions facing their business
- receive recommendations to simplify business operations
- solutions that will ultimately improve their bottom line.

We are not business consultants who will come in, look at your business, make suggestions and leave – we are here to make you more successful and to be there for you along the way.

Monthly Seminars

Your monthly check up! Attend our monthly seminars to gain knowledge in various areas of your business. Receive essential tools to help your business succeed today.

Monthly Study Groups

Designed to complement our Seminars by providing more in-depth guidance in small groups where you will work with our coach and each other to gain more hands-on review of business fundamentals.

Report COACH Services

Are you keeping track of your score card? Report COACH will work with you on a monthly basis to track and understand your business, both on paper and in your day-to-day practices.

One on One COACH

Get help understanding your unique challenges, and advice and techniques to simplify, and improve your business procedures. Business COACH is your temporary board of directors/CFO, your marketing manager, your sales director, your HR Manager, your business mentor, or whatever role best fits your needs.

You are already good at what you do. However, you may remember times when you could have done things better with a bit more knowledge or outside perspective. Attend one of our monthly seminars to begin your journey toward understanding your business today. Let our COACH provide the knowledge, guidance, insight, and experience to guide you on a path to longevity and success.
